The annual Key Peninsula Business Association meeting held on February was a huge success by all accounts. There were 84 people in attendance.

It has been overwhelmingly determined there will NOT be a Key Peninsula Fair held in 2009. As of yet the date for 2010 has not been established.

March 21st will be the road cleanup. Meet at 8:00AM at the Home Park. Breakfast will be provided by the KPBA to all participants.

Cathy Del Cruz gave a very fine presentation of the history of establishing El Sombrero. Her husband, Pablo Sombrero originally lived in Guadalajara, Mexico and after coming to the United States was a chef for the Azteca chain. Their original El Sombrero was established in Port Orchard nearly 20 years ago.

It took about three months to open El Sombrero from the time they purchased the building from the previous owner. Business has been good and only slightly effected by the current economy. They also offer take-out under certain conditions, if requested.
